

What Will You Find In This Link?

I am going to publish actual stories happened with me, or I was present when it happened. Although this site tries to introduce/define liberal madness, mindlessness, and cluelessness using all kinds of links, writings, "You Live In The Liberal Republic Of Delusionistan" write up right on the home page, it still boggles a mind of a rational person on the one hand, and irritates a living daylight out of anyone with a half a brain how can humans, seemingly intelligent, surely highly educated think the way liberals do.

So, thought one additional way is if I write trues stories I personally were involved in or personally witnessed. Maybe this will do it.
